

Beth Wayne & Bobby Gibbs

Beth Wayne lives in Palm Beach Gardens, Florida and owns an IT and Remote Staffing company. She also has a background in sales, holds an active real estate license, and focuses on spending time with her children.

Wayne converted to Judaism and enjoys being active in the Jewish community. She is involved with the Jewish Federation of Palm Beach County. She is a proud graduate of its Emerging Leadership Program, Mandel Leadership Institute, and currently is in the inaugural class of the Wexner Heritage Program for Jewish Palm Beach.

Previously she was the Chair of Kol Isha, the young women's philanthropy group and a member of The Collaborative <45/ NextGen as the campaign cabinet liaison. Wayne currently sits on the Board of Directors for Federation and on the Board for Women's Philanthropy. She currently sits on the Israel & Overseas Committee, Chairs the Budapest Committee and serves on the JCC Budapest Steering Committee. She is also a trustee for Jewish Women's Foundation of the Palm Beaches.

Born in Kendallville, Indiana, Wayne moved to South Florida as a young child, and grew up in Wellington, Florida with three sisters. She attended Florida State University, where she earned her bachelor's degree in business marketing with a minor in Communications. She and her husband, Hawkeye, have a 13-year-old daughter, and 11-year-old son.

Bobby Gibbs is a partner in the retail and consumer goods practice at Oliver Wyman, the strategy consulting arm of MarshMcLennan focused on delivering better customer value propositions through advanced analytics and improved organizational capabilities. He regularly contributes perspectives on the retail sector to major press outlets in television, print and radio. His writing has been featured in the Harvard Business Review and various trade publications.

Gibbs has served on the boards for the Jewish Federation of Greater Dallas, Temple Emanu-El Dallas, the Yale Alumni Association, the Yale Club of Dallas and the AT&T Performing Arts Center. He chaired the 2022 Washington Conference for Jewish Federations of North America and is the 2023-24 Public Affairs Chair for National Young Leadership Cabinet. He represents Cabinet on JFNA's Domestic Policy & Government Affairs Committee, the Advocacy Corp leadership, and the Israel emergency allocation committee. He is the 2021 recipient of Jewish Federation of Greater Dallas's I. Zesmer Young Leadership award for personal contribution, commitment, and exemplary leadership to the Federation and to the highest ideals of the Jewish community. Bobby has a bachelor's degree from Yale University.

