Legal Disclaimer - Important

The Jewish Federation of Greater Vancouver (“JFGV”) and members serve on the Subcommittee on Cyber-Security and Information Protection (“SCsIP”) under its Terms of Reference to create, recommend and communicate cyber-security and information protection related policies, best practices, and activities; make available or provide educational resources for Jewish community institutions related to cyber-security; and where appropriate, educate and train Jewish organizations in these matters.

The JFGV and SCsIP does not, however, warrant or make any representations or conditions regarding the use, validity, completeness, accuracy, or reliability of, or the results of the use of, or otherwise respecting, the information on this site. Any information provided through the JFGV or SCsIP is provided "as is", without warranties of any kind, either expressed or implied. This includes, but is not not limited to, implied warranties of merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose, or non infringement.

In no event shall the JFGV and committee members be liable for any direct, indirect, special, incidental, or consequential damages, including but not limited to loss of data or profit, arising out of or in connection with the use or performance of the information on this site, even if JFGV or a SCsIP member or associate shall have been advised of the possibility of such, and whether based in an action in contract, tort, or any other theory of liability.

Information provided by the JFGV or SCsIP may include technical inaccuracies or typographical errors. Changes may be periodically made to these publications. JFGV and committee members serving on the SCsIP may make improvements and/or changes in the products, or the programs described in these publications, at any time without notice.
