

ON SUKKOT, WE REMEMBER

During Sukkot, we remember the years our people wandered, both in biblical and in modern times. This video shows how Jewish Federations like ours have helped so many of us to return to the Promised Land since 1948.

HOW ONE MAN MADE HISTORY WITH A PURPLE DINOSAUR...

Media executive Larry Rifkin's career led him down a unique path. Rising to unexpected challenges and meeting them head-on, he brought national phenomena to the small screen while staying close to home and never working in a major media center. Rifkin took women's basketball from obscurity to a national pastime, making it the most transformative local franchise on PBS. He also was the executive in charge for Connecticut Public Television, the co-producer of Barney & Friends, one of the most popular children's television shows in history.

In No Dead Air, Rifkin invites fans of television history and success stories into his studio and home for a behind-the-scenes glimpse, including memories throughout his career in American media, descriptions of industry changes, and interactions with celebrities.

From the man who saved Barney from extinction comes an inspiring and entertaining journey that began in radio and transcended time and technology to continue into the age of podcasting. Larry Rifkin is still on the air hosting americatrendspodcast.com.

NO DEAD AIR

Career Reflections From the TV Executive Who Saved BARNEY THE DINOSAUR From Extinction

LARRY RIFKIN

Larry Rifkin was the programming executive for Connecticut Public Television (CPTV) for over a quarter of a century, from 1986 to 2009.

CONNECTICUT Magazine characterized his time at the station as the 'Elvis years' because of the many programming accomplishments attributed to his leadership.

Most notable, Rifkin was responsible for bringing 'Barney & Friends' to PBS. It went on to become one of the most successful children's television series in history and he introduced UConn Women's Basketball to television and helped to propel women's sports on TV nationally.

Under his leadership, CPTV amassed over fifty (50) Emmy Awards in the Boston/New England competition. And Mr. Rifkin was inducted into the Boston/New England Silver Circle in 2006. This is the regional television equivalent of a Lifetime Achievement Award.

Mr. Rifkin was a skilled on air presenter on CPTV and returned to his radio roots full-time back in 2010 as host of 'Talk of the Town' on WATR 1320 for a seven year period.

He now hosts the podcast, americatrendspodcast.com, where he looks at changes in our society and our politics. He is approaching 500 episodes recorded.

His new book is titled 'No Dead Air' and it will be released in the fall.

We are pleased to announce that Israeli Prime Minister Naftali Bennett will address the annual General Assembly on Sunday, October 3, at 2:00 pm.

Bennett, who came into office in June leading a broad-based coalition, is expected to address the major challenges facing Israel, the rising tide of antisemitism, and the relationship between the Jewish state and North American Jewry in an exclusive conversation with Jewish Federations Chair Mark Wilf.

The last year has seen dramatic events with far-reaching consequences for the Jewish community, from the pandemic to thousands of rockets falling across Israel. And we have shown, once again, that when we work together we can tackle anything.

On October 3rd at 2 PM (ET), we will gather to reflect, learn, and explore several important areas of Jewish life that are on our communal agenda at this critical time. We hope you will join us.
