

ISRAEL ACTIVITIES KIT FOR FAMILY AND CHILDREN
THAT YOU CAN DO FROM HOME

Note From Me

Shalom Le'kolam,

Who could have ever imagined this?

I don't know how you are feeling, but I'm jumping between so many emotions. From being very laid-back to very careful, from being a big believer to a big pessimist, from wanting to stick to my routine as much as I can to understanding that there are changes that I need to make.

But maybe this is a sign that we need to check ourselves, discover how much we have and with how little we can live, find time to be more creative, open-minded, cautious, and thoughtful. To enjoy our time with our loved ones, learn more about each other, and finally have time to watch that TV series everyone has been recommending

My way to reach out and support you during these crazy days is with this kit. Together with the help of other Community Shlichim from across the United States, we've collected a variety of fun activities to occupy some of your time while at home. We've included items for your children and for you adults as well.

I hope that you find this useful.
Take care of yourselves and stay safe and healthy!

Origami

Star of David Origami Step by Step with a piece of paper cut to the same size as a dollar bill.

Step 1 Fold the bill in half lengthwise and unfold again, to make a crease.

Step 2 Fold the top left corner down to meet the crease in the center (marked with a *). Also, make sure that the crease passes through the bottom left corner of the bill.

Step 3 Fold the bottom left corner up to meet the top edge, like this:

Step 4 Fold the top left corner down to meet the bottom edge.

Your bill should now look like this:

Step 5 If you look closely at the bill, you'll see that there's a sort of pocket in it now. Tuck the loose flap into the pocket and fold it in place.

Step 6 Your bill should now look like a triangle with all sides of equal length.

Fold and unfold your bill in half all three ways, as shown by the dotted lines below. The reason we're doing this is to mark the center of the triangle

Step 7 Fold the top point down to meet the center of the triangle.

Fold the other two points to meet the center of the triangle too, so that your bill looks something like this:

Step 8 Turn over the bill. Then fold the top edge down to meet the center point (marked with a *). As you make the fold, let the tip of the star flip out from underneath. You'll see what I mean in the next photos.

Now fold the bottom right edge to meet the center point, like in the photo below. Also, see how the tip of the star is showing from the previous fold?

As you fold in this last edge, tuck it under the top flap. It's a bit hard to describe, but see the photo below.

Finished!

Here's what the finished money origami star looks like from the front and back:

A vibrant orange background featuring a large, stylized rainbow with bands of orange, yellow, and light blue. Several five-pointed stars in yellow and light blue are scattered across the scene, some overlapping the rainbow. The text 'Cut-out Games' is written in a large, black, cursive font in the center.

Science Lab

Bring The Dead Sea to Your Kitchen!

In this experiment we are going to make a raw egg float in a cup of water

Ingredients:

- raw egg
- cup
- Water
- Salt
- spoon

Let's get started!

- fill the cup with water (not all the way so we have room left for the egg).
- Put the egg in the cup.

What happens to the egg? does it sinks or floats?

Because of its weight the egg drowns in the cup.

- Let's take the egg out of the cup and this time add 2 tea spoons of salt. Mix the salt in the water and put the egg in again.

What happens to the egg? does it sinks or floats?

Now the egg is floating!

Why did it happen?

At first the egg sank in the water because it was heavier than the water.
When we added the salt in the water we made the water heavier than the egg and that's why it floated!

Did you know?

Because the dead sea in Israel is so full of salt, the water is so heavy that people can float in it!

The Desalination experiment

Have you ever wondered how it makes sense that a country with barely any sources of fresh water can have enough water for all of the people who live there? This experiment will give you the answer!

Ingredients:

- Pot with a lid
- water
- salt
- and any other messy thing you want to add to the water

Let's get started!

- In the pot mix the ingredients.
- Will you drink this water? probably not unless you are very brave
- Can you clean this water? again- probably not.
- So how can we make this water drinkable?
- Boil with the help of an adult our mix in a little pot.
- When the water boils put a lid close to the steam.
- The steam creates water drops on the lid.
- Taste those drops. What do they taste like? They are sweet!

How does it happen?

What you did is called Desalination. It's taking the salt and the dirt out to have sweet water that we can drink. The way you did it was through cleaning the water and purifying it.

This is one of the oldest ways to make water good for drinking!

Today they are some more ways, in Israel they use Desalination to produce about half of the drinking water!
